DESCRIPTIONS

Layout - Public Areas

What differentiates this vessel from most other motor yachts is not only the amount of space the boat provides, but also the number of gathering areas both indoors and out, that can be enjoyed in so many different ways and the inter-connectivity between them, for instance:

Aft Cockpit

The spacious aft cockpit provides a greeting area for visitors as they board via the swim platform, and is perfect for enjoying the sunshine, fishing or barbecuing while in port or under way. Alternatively, it can be used as a private sun-deck that is accessed directly from the aft master stateroom via sliding patio doors.

Aft Deck

The fully enclosed glazed-in aft deck is a few steps up from the aft cockpit and provides a comfortable and airy main gathering space where guests can comfortably enjoy views out over the water in any weather. A few steps up and you are in the fully enclosed flybridge. A few steps down lead to the main saloon, or out onto the side decks, providing guests with many choices should they decide to break away and reflect, or enjoy the other aspects of this magnificent boat.

The aft deck also features a wet bar with ice machine, custom teak bench seating with fabric cushions running the full width of the aft deck, and three Plexiglas doors leading out to the port and starboard side decks and down to the aft cockpit.

Main Saloon

The Main Saloon spanning the full width of the vessel awaits a few steps below the aft deck. Filled with natural light from all sides and views forward through the large windows at eye level, The saloon is paneled in rich hardwood with contrasting neutral fabrics, carpets and ceiling panels, tastefully designed and welcoming, thanks in part to the free-standing leather sofas on either side of the saloon, one is a L shaped and the other folds down to create additional sleeping accommodation.

Flybridge

A few steps up from the aft deck is a large, permanently enclosed flybridge featuring three captains chairs at the console and two settees, one facing forward with a coffee table and the other to starboard and port-facing. There is a full length, operable sunroof and operable windows throughout, forming a small lounge and a great vantage point.

Galley

Forward and to starboard is an impressive galley that is open to the main saloon, so the chef can participate in the conversation while making use of the sub zero fridge/freezer, microwave / convection oven, 3 burner stove with oven, twin sinks and plenty of storage. There is a stone floor and counter-tops, but a unique feature of this particular boat is that all surfaces visible in the main saloon are crafted from wood to match the paneling, creating a harmonious and high-end aesthetic throughout.

Dining Area

To starboard of the galley is a free-standing hardwood round table with 4 matching dining chairs that give the boat a more residential feel than the fixed bench seating, one would often expect.

Staterooms

The large, well designed staterooms, all with En Suite Bathrooms and class-leading design, storage and finishes and are what separate the Carver 564 from, other boats in her class.

Aft Stateroom

A unique feature of the aft stateroom is the direct access to the aft cockpit via sliding patio doors, that provide a truly private outdoor space, especially when at sea. This is in addition to the generous use rich wood finishes and neutral fabrics used throughout this large private master stateroom and en suite head with separate shower.

Forward Stateroom

The second master stateroom forward, also with en-suite head and separate shower is as equally well thought out and appointed as the after stateroom, and bathed in natural light thanks to a large central skylight. You will appreciate the generous headroom above the large berth and the storage volume that has been provided in the form of cedar lined cabinets and drawers.

Third Cabin

The third cabin has twin beds with en suite head that doubles as the day head for the boat and this cabin also accommodates separate washer and dryer, concealed behind a paneled wall so this cabin satisfies any requirements for a kids room, utility room, storage locker or a combination thereof.
